Women to the Stage!

Increasing the Visibility of Female Researchers at Lecture Series, Summer Schools, Conferences and Symposia

“Women to the stage!” is an initiative of the Central Office for Gender Equality, Diversity and Family of the Faculty of Arts and Humanity of Kiel University.

Despite an increase of women with academic jobs, after a study at the faculty level women resulted to be underrepresented in scientific programs of conferences and open talks. With this initiative the office for gender equality provides a budget to enhance the visibility of female researchers and their participation to scientific events and conference programs.

The 12th IMPR organizing committee applied for this budget and aims at using it to refund registration fees for IPS female participants presenting a contribution (oral or poster) during the conference.

All female presenters can apply, however priority will be given to female students, including PhD students, and female participants from low-income countries (B category as defined in the application).

Among equal applicants, i.e. from the same group of students/non-students B-category country/non-students A-category country, the selection will be based on:

- (1) the absence of own funding as declared in the application
- (2) the quality of the abstract submitted.

Please submit your application at 12impr@email.uni-kiel.de for the grant Women to the stage! before August 30, 2021.

The registration fee will be refund after the conference to the bank account of the grant holders.
